Faculty Evaluations

1. Full-Time Faculty
   In the College of Health and Human Sciences, every full-time faculty member (tenured, tenure-track, non-tenure track, regular limited term) will be evaluated each year by the chair of the school. The evaluation will take place during spring semester and will encompass the previous calendar year (January to December). Guidelines for the evaluation are left to the individual school but must include teaching, scholarship, and service.

2. Part-Time Faculty
   In the College of Health and Human Sciences, every part-time faculty member is evaluated at the end of the semester of appointment by the chair of the school. Guidelines for the evaluation are left to the individual school.
